Leadership and Management Skills Development

The programme is an excellent opportunity to gain hands-on leadership experience through theory and practise and to develop management skills.

The programme also stresses understanding global markets, international business strategies and cross-cultural communication. The international cohorts of students optimise the chances of sharing ideas and cross-cultural perspectives.

Networking Opportunities

Access to a diverse and extensive alumni network and industry connections. Academic symposiums, workshops, webinars and guest speaker sessions with industry professionals and business leaders widen connectivity chances.

Experiential Learning Experience

EAI's MBA is a hands-on learning programme that integrates case studies and project opportunities on real-world business issues and simulations to apply theoretical knowledge to practical business challenges.

Who is this programme for?

- Business Graduates with Relevant Backgrounds: Recent graduates with degrees in business, management, or any related field. Given the intensive nature of the programme, they are expected to have foundational knowledge of business principles, preparing them for advanced studies without requiring a steep learning curve in core areas.
- Entrepreneurs and Small Business Owners: Fully dedicated individuals who want to grow or launch their ventures. They seek practical skills such as leadership, strategy, marketing, and innovation rather than deep dives into finance or economics.
- Professionals Seeking Career Transition: For those with a clear intention to switch to managerial roles in marketing, operations, or human resources, the programme's focus aligns more directly with their career aspirations. Full-time availability is essential, so only those able to step away from their current employment can realistically participate.
- International Students Focused on Business Leadership: International candidates seeking a global perspective on business practises with an interest in leadership and management roles, excluding heavily focused fields like finance or economics.
- Students looking to upgrade their skills: Individuals who may have taken a break from education after graduation seeking to upgrade their skills and qualifications for personal and career growth.
